The ChordBuddy is a four-button, color-coded guitar learning system that makes playing the guitar easy and fun. It attaches to the fret-board of the guitar and by pressing a button the student is able to play G-major, C-major, D-major, and E-minor with great ease. After students learn how to read music, play a variety of strum patterns, and develop the love of playing, they remove the buttons one at a time and play the chords with their fingers on the strings.

"Research reports that early music training dramatically enhances children's abstract reasoning skills. These findings indicate that music uniquely enhances higher brain functions required for mathematics, chess, science and engineering."
